Excerpt from Select British Documents of the Canadian War of 1812, Vol. 1 of 3

Paris, in November 1814, on hearing the news Of Prevost's disgrace at Plattsburg. It suggests that Wellington might possibly have been in Canada instead Of on the field of Waterloo; and it ends with a passage which throws his sense Of duty into fine relief. He was already a duke, a field marshal, and second only to Napoleon himself in the eyes of the world at large. Yet he was quite ready to start for even such a very minor seat Of war as the Canada of 1815. I believe I shall not be able to go to Quebec till April. It will be for you to consider whether I can be most useful to you there, here, or elsewhere.

For the sake of convenience all the maps and illustrations are put into this first and handiest volume. The chapters Of the Introduction exactly correspond with the groups Of the Narrative Documents.
